RE: Publication of Student Work

During the semester in which you are enrolled in my class(es), many of you will produce websites, PowerPoint presentations or other multimedia applications as part of assignments for the course. In many cases, I will want to publish these websites and other applications publicly, as a way to showcase not only your talents and ideas, but also to highlight the caliber of work that students are producing at ASU.

I would also like to use the sites and multimedia presentations that you produce as examples for research articles and at conferences. In none of these instances will your name be associated with viewing the sites.

By signing below, you are indicating your permission to have your website projects and presentations published on a publicly-accessible website, and are also giving permission to use these course assignments as examples in research articles and at scholarly conferences.
