

2008 Eric Pas Dissertation Prize in Travel Behaviour Research
Submission Deadline: April 1, 2009

The International Association for Travel Behaviour Research (IATBR) invites submissions for the 2008 Eric Pas Dissertation Prize. This dissertation prize recognizes the best doctoral dissertation in the area of travel behaviour research accepted at an institution between January 1, 2008 and December 31, 2008. Announcement of winner(s) and presentation of award(s) will take place at the 2009 International Association of Travel Behaviour Research in Jaipur, India in December 2009.

NOTE: The Eric Pas Dissertation Prize Competition has been drawing an increasing number of entries in the recent past. Therefore, in an effort to simplify the logistics associated with handling a large number of entries, the entire submission and review process will be handled purely through electronic communications (similar to the 2007 Competition cycle).

Supervisors wishing to submit 2008 dissertations for consideration should provide the following items via e-mail no later than April 1, 2009:

1. The complete doctoral dissertation/thesis including all appendices
2. An extended abstract (in English) between 3 to 5 pages in length, and
3. A nomination letter (in English) supporting the submission and stating the supervisor's assessment of why the dissertation/thesis is worthy of the award.

The extended abstract and supervisor's nomination letter (items 2 and 3) must be transmitted as distinct attachments either in MS-Word or Acrobat PDF format. The doctoral dissertation (item 1) should also be transmitted, if possible, as a single file attachment either in MS-Word or Acrobat PDF format. However, if the size or nature of the document does not allow this, then the dissertation may be transmitted as multiple file attachments (e.g., one file per chapter) or in a ZIP format. Special formats may be accommodated (e.g., Excel for tables/charts, JPG for figures) for certain elements of the dissertation, but should be kept to a minimum.

Entries should be submitted via e-mail to the Chair of the 2008 Eric Pas Dissertation Prize Jury, Prof Shlomo Bekhor, Technion, Israel (sbekhor@technion.ac.il), with a copy (cc:) to the Chair of the IATBR, Prof. Eric J. Miller, University of Toronto, Canada (miller@civ.utoronto.ca).
